About Charlene:

Debut single from Boston's Charlene. Recorded in 1998 on a TASCAM 388 8-track machine around the corner from Green Street T stop on the Orange Line in Jamaica Plain, MA. You might be able to hear the rumble of the last outbound train of the evening if you listen close. Release #1 is quiet because Matt's amp has torn speakers. Various tones produced as a result of only one half of the Christmas lights working in the rehearsal space. Many

Quotes:

"Charlene hint at the definite possibility of future glory." - Skyway

"While Charlene hardly sounds like the fighting type, the group does manage to bloody up 90-pound weaklings Ride before making their guitar-skree getaway. -- Magnet melodies and songs gridlocked in a tangle of wire and stompboxes extracted only through the careful attentions and ministrations of the band members. Charlene is Matt, Randy, and Ian.
